TO THE TIMES ONLY.

A Case of Mistaken Identity—Railway Work Continued—O'Connor Accepts.

Brutal Murder—Extraordinary Storms—The Fisheries and Parliament.

Special to The Times.]

Winnipeg, Jan. 10—The Local Government have began work again on the Portage extension. They have notified the Canadian Pacific to put in the necessary diamonds as the railway committee of the Privy Council decided.

Calgary, N. W. T., Jan. 10—Acting on instructions from Winnipeg, Chief of Police Deliebough arrested a man on the train going west last night, supposed to be Jones, the Helena forger. He gave his name as Hart, and strongly protested that it was a case of mistaken identity. He was tried before Mayor Shelton and during the proceedings a telegram was received from Helena saying that if the prisoner weighed two hundred pounds he was not the man wanted, and as he had been weighed and found to be two hundred and fifty pounds he was discharged.

ONTARIO SPECIALS.

Gaudaur's Challenge Accepted—A Brutal Murder Stories, &c.

Special to The Times.]

Toronto, Jan. 10—William O'Connor has accepted the challenge of Jake Gaudaur, offering to row him three miles for $1000 a side at Galveston, San Francisco or New Orleans, about March 1st. O'Connor favors San Francisco as the place, but will not insist.

Telegraph communication with the east is still off on account of a violent wind storm, which prevails to-night. It will likely undo what has been done to restore it. Such a state of demoralization has not existed before in many years. Many signs have been blown down and several narrow escapes from death by being crushed under them are reported. The telegraph lines are down in all directions, and the city is almost completely cut off from the outer world.

Flesherton, Ont., Jan. 10—A Frenchman named Morell was murdered here to-day by two brothers named Hebner, both hard characters. Charles Hebner knocked him down with a pair of skates he had strapped together. A man named Thos. Cartmill witnessed the affair and interfered, but was also knocked down. The Hebners then knocked Morell's face and body almost into a jelly and left him for dead.

FROM OTTAWA.

The Meeting of Parliament and the Fisheries.

Special to The Times:

Ottawa, Jan. 10—A rumor was circulated here to-day in political circles that parliament would not meet until the 1st of March, owing to some further negotiations in respect to the fisheries question; but no confirmation of the news could be heard.

The Royal Labor Commission met to-day in the house of commons and approved the appointment of Mr. Weed, editor of the Hamilton Spectator as chairman.

UNFORTUNATE LONDON.

A Deluge of Rain Followed by Snowdrifts.

Special to The Times.]

London, Jan. 10.—A heavy rainfall prevailed in this section to-day. At noon the high wind raised to a gale, which has continued with unabated force. About 7 p. m. snow began falling, piling up drifts in every direction.

OUR BARKERVILLE BUDGET.

New Year's Festivities—Death and Burial—Not Found, Etc.

From our own Correspondent.]

The weather has been remarkably mild for the last few weeks and continues to smile on us in the most lovely manner. The pure, dry air in this northern latitude has the most exhiliarating effect when it is not too cold. This no doubt helped to inspire the mammas and others concerned in the production of a beautiful sylvan scene at the theatre, entitled "Fairie Voices." This followed the grand ball under the auspices of the fire department, which in itself was a decided success, as indeed how could it be otherwise under the management of Capt. Joe Denny and the fire brigade. But the people here are not given to "letting up" on a spree of 24 hours duration. Next night after the ball came the entertainment, inaugurated and managed by Mr. Bowron and Mr. D. J. Brooks, and certainly it must have been balm to the hearts of those who had taken so much trouble to turn out the fairies, to hear the rounds of applause that greeted the rising of the curtain. Miss Vera Mason, the queen, was perched on her throne and performed her part well, yawning in the nick of time which "brought down the house," although she was a little dubious about the big spider. Miss Nettie House was maid of honor. The twelve "fairies" went through the evolutions, dancing and singing, so as to merit the applause so bountifully bestowed on them. This piece was followed by a dramatic representation called "The Antidote," in which Miss Lizzie Houser, Miss Annie Brown, and Miss Katie Brown, assisted by Wm. Brooks "Chawls," and Wm. Stone as the "Doctor," was well received and displayed considerable histrionic talent. Followed by "No. 1 Round the Corner," in which Messrs. Marsden and Dods took the principal parts. The "Dutch Dolls," an exhibition by the little girls, was just "too funny for anything," and would have been going yet, but for the imperative necessity of eating and sleeping. The dolls disappear to their well earned supper with their mammas and guardians, and presto. The Theatre Royal is a ballroom and the devotees to Terpsichore are again tripping the "light fantastic," and again on New Years Eve the merry dancers "chased the flashing hours with flying feet." Verily, if we are far north, we are not out of the world; or we have a world of our own.

In the midst of the festivities came the news that Chris. Hoffsomer, a Hollander, who had been for many years a resident on the creek, had been found dead outside his cabin. Poor Chris, living by himself and having no near neighbors had slipped and fallen on his back, and was quite rigid when found by a man hewing wood and had to be chopped out. His body, however, was not mutilated, and, as usual, on such occasions almost the entire community turned out at his funeral.

Nothing further has been heard of Polmers, and a feeling exists that his remains will never be seen.

Mr. Wm. Forest was taken sick very suddenly on the morning of the 1st, and has been removed to the hospital, where he is slowly improving.

The roads are in good condition and freight teams are arriving almost daily with supplies. The school was closed with the usual half-yearly examination, and will be opened again in a few days, but some of the scholars will be missing, as I understand Mr. I. B. Nason, M.P.P., intends taking Mrs. Nason and family to Victoria during the coming session of Parliament.

PERSONAL.

Items Telling of the Movements of Well Known Persons.

Mrs J C McLagan, her many friends in this city will regret to learn, is seriously ill at New Westminster.

S Greer was amongst the arrivals from the mainland last night.

T J Hamilton, U. S. Marshal, is in the city accompanied by his amiable wife and their bright little boy, and will remain for a day, when they will take a trip to Vancouver before returning to their home in Seattle.

L G Little, of McLaren, Ross & Co, the prominent lumber company of Montreal, Quebec and Ottawa, who are preparing to erect a mill at New Westminster, is at the Driard.

Messrs J R Tait and Uriah Nelson left for Spokane Falls this morning.

Mrs Moran, wife of Mayor Moran of Seattle, and Mrs H C Wilson and son left by the Olympian this morning for the Sound.

Roderick Begg, son of Alex Begg, Esq, Agent General for British Columbia in the Crofter movement in Scotland, will be connected with the British Columbia Monthly and Mining Review in the position of secretary to the publishers and canvasser in general. Go in Roderick and win your spurs.

Sir Frederick Grenfell, who is in command of the British force in the Soudan, is only forty-seven years of age. He first came into prominence during the operations in the Transkei in 1877-78. He served in the Kaffir war of 1878 and in the Zulu campaign of 1879. He also rendered effective service in the Boer war of 1881. He joined the Egyptian army in 1883 and served with it on the frontier in 1885-86. He was present at the battle of Ginias. He has been in active service for the last ten years and is really a man of much ability as a commander.

Capt D Urquhart came down from Vancouver last night.

J H Hawthornthwaite, U. S. consul agent at Nanaimo, is at the Clarence.

C J P Phibbs, Vancouver is at the Clarence.

Capt Troupe arrived from Kamloops last evening.

Geo. Byrnes and M H Cowan were passengers by the Islander last night.

T C Atkinson and M M English, New Westminster, are at the Driard.

Geo W Taylor, Vancouver, and J Payne, Kamloops, are at the Oriental.

TELEGRAPHIC TICKS.

News of the World Condensed Into Pithy Paragraphs.

The doctors have decided that Lieut-Governor Angers, of Quebec, will be unable to open the House on Wednesday next. In consequence the meeting will have to be postponed or a commission got from Ottawa authorizing a judge to act.

An Iowa family and nine guests were poisoned by partaking of meat which had been salted in a zinc vessel.

The Southern Pacific earnings for 1888 are expected to reach $47,000,000.

Jake Gaudaur has challenged Wm. O'Connor for $1000 and the championship. Race to be rowed at New Orleans, San Francisco or Galveston on March 1.

Snow storm on all sides of Chicago to-day.

Harry D Schall, assistant cashier N. W. R., Chicago, has disappeared with $14,000.

A field of ice seven feet thick has formed outside the sea wall at Odessa. The field extends a distance of 10 miles out to sea.

The university crew of the Dublin, Ireland, university has challenged the Yale crew to race, provided the latter come to England this year. Yale has taken no action. The sentiment is in favor of accepting.

THE MAYORALTY.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—The actions of public men are very properly fair subjects for criticism, which no one occupying an office of trust should fear or cavil with, provided what are stated as facts are truly so. In the Colonist of this morning, statements are made in respect to myself which are not true, and which the managers of the Colonist must know cannot be substantiated. My answer to them will be given at another time and to the people most interested.

Respectfully, John Grant.

AN IDEA.

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—In the leader of the Colonist this morning, it states that it was the duty of the Mayor to see that the books of the city treasurer were properly kept. Did Mayor Fell do this? Did Mayor Bithet; did Mayor Redfern; did Mayor Carey; did Mayor Turner, or did Mayor Drake, or any other mayor before them, make a business of overhauling the treasurer's books? I suppose there were discrepancies under all of the above mentioned mayors. The mayor is not supposed to examine the books to find out frauds; there is a paid auditor for this business. The books have been audited every year and passed as correct. Electos.

Sad Death.

At 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon Mrs. J. R. Falkner expired at the residence of her parents at the corner of Blanchard avenue and Pioneer streets. The young woman was taken suddenly ill on Tuesday evening and despite the skill and attention of three medical attendants she passed peacefully away. Mrs. Falkner was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Williams, of this city, and leaves a father and mother, three sisters, a loving husband and child to mourn her untimely death. The deceased was well known in this city, where she gained the respect of a large circle of friends and acquaintances. After her marriage, fifteen years ago, she left for the upper country and resided with her husband and child on the Cariboo road. The funeral will take to-morrow afternoon.

ALL THE WORLD OVER

Terrible Loss of Life in the Wrecked Buildings—The Eastern Storm

Two Brutal Prize Fights—Tied to the Track—The Usual Accidents, &c.

Reading, Pa., Jan. 10—The work of clearing away the debris at the wrecked silk mill continued throughout the night. This morning a large addition was made to the working force and some twenty additional bodies were removed. Mr. Grinshaw, one of the owners of the mill, this morning gives the number missing and killed at one hundred and twenty. About thirty bodies have been removed and it is thought at least sixty are still in the ruins. Dwellings in the track of the storm this morning present a terrible sight. Fortunately, however, no one was injured in any of these. The storm did considerable damage to the northern part of the county but the wires are down and it is impossible to furnish details. Mayor Kenney this morning issued an appeal for aid for the sufferers. The official list of those affected by yesterday's accident swells the total number to sixty-seven. At this hour (11 a. m.) eleven are dead, eight fatally injured, twenty-five seriously injured, fifteen slightly injured, and eight persons are missing. It is known positively that there are other bodies under the ruins. All possible efforts are being made for their recovery, but scarcely any hope is entertained for any more to be removed alive. Two bodies were removed from the rear of the Weldon building since 4 o'clock this morning. They were not fully identified. Chief Brown, together with the assistant, remained at the scene of the accident throughout the night directing the firemen and police in the search for missing. A long line of wagons and carts carried the debris away as rapidly as it could be loaded. Early this morning the number of searchers increased and the work of excavating the debris is progressing systematically. Throngs of people line the streets, eager for the latest information. At the hospital last night, particularly, the Homeopathic hospital, where twenty-nine unfortunates were provided with accomodations, it was found necessary to station police officers at the doors to hold the throng of anxious inquirers in check. The remains of Dr. J. B. Reed and Willie Goetman are still in the ruins, but owing to the extremely dangerous condition of the tottering walls their removal cannot be effected in safety for several hours. The coroner will begin an investigation this afternoon.

STORM AT NIAGARA FALLS.

Niagara Falls, Jan. 10—A storm raged here last night with great fury. The suspension foot bridge spanning Niagara River below the Falls was torn from the cables at three o'clock this morning and lies at the bottom of the river. The structure is not clear from the tower at Brundage's elevator on the American side of the whirlpool rapids. A two-story building was blown into the rapids and swept away at the Battery elevator on the American side. Dellerick's photograph gallery was swept into the whirlpool. Part of Manning's elevator on the American side was swept away and at the lower part of the rapids View elevator is gone. The tin roof of the hotel was torn off, several buildings on the reservation blown down, and many trees were destroyed. The bridge connecting Goat and Sister Island is in danger. The dock at the foot of the inclined railway has been swept away. The water in the river is very high. Many buildings on the Canadian shore are in danger. The storm still continues.

BRITISH PLENIPOTENTIARY.

London, Jan. 7—It is publicly stated to-day that Sir George S. Baden-Powell, M. P., Liverpool, will shortly proceed to Ottawa and Washington as a plenipotentiary on behalf of the British Government in the fisheries question. Sir George Baden-Powell is no doubt an authority on the question as he made a careful study of the dispute on the spot in 1882, and published elaborate reports on it through the Times. He possibly intends to renew this study, but the best informed circles have no reason to suppose that the British Government will make any move until the new president is installed.

THE RELIGIOUS QUESTION.

London, Jan. 7—The recent action of the Quebec Legislature on behalf of the Jesuits has attracted attention in Protestant circles here. The current issue of the monthly letter of the Protestant Alliance is entirely devoted to the subject. The protest is commended to England which is urged to be warned from the experience of Quebec of the danger of placing absolute control of education in the hands of Ultramontane ecclesiastics.

THE CROFTERS.

The latest reports from Lewis show that the distress is probably as acute among the Crofters as ever. The potatoes and other crops are already exhausted in many districts and the people are on the brink of starvation. These reports will probably lead the Government to persist in the scheme of state-aided emigration to Manitoba.

A SIX HOURS FIGHT.

San Francisco, Jan. 10—The fight between Billy Meban, of this city, and Geo. Malholland, of Australia, for the light weight championship of the Pacific coast and a purse of $2000, which took place at Golden Gate Athletic Club last night, was declared a draw at three o'clock this morning. Eighty-seven rounds having been fought, and neither man being badly punished. The duration of the fight was nearly six hours.

A SEVERE GALE.

Boston, Jan. 10—A severe gale prevails along the coast and throughout New England. The telegraph wires are down in every direction. Gloucester by telephone reports a schooner on shore on the rocks. One body has been washed on the shore.

A BLOODY FIGHT.

Nashville, Jan. 10—The bloodiest prize fight ever witnessed in this state occurred at midnight between Mattie Thompson and Bert Sebilla, heavy weights. The fight was won on a foul by Sebilla in the 28th round. Both men were covered with blood from head to foot.

A GENERAL STORM.

Chicago, Jan. 10—The storm is still prevailing. Despatches from Wisconsin, Iowa and Ohio report a heavy snow fall.

TIED TO THE RAILWAY TRACK.

Los Angeles, Jan. 10—Dr. D. T. Kellam, physician of Alhambra, a small town near here, was beaten to unconsciousness on Tuesday night and robbed of one hundred dollars and a gold watch. He was tied hand and foot to the railway track from which he freed himself on regaining consciousness after a hard struggle. The affair is supposed to have been the work of tramps.

O'BRIEN SUMMONED.

Dublin, Jan. 10—William O'Brien, M. P., received two summonses to answer the charge of conspiracy. The trial has been appointed for January 24th.

SEND ING AIMS TO HAYTI.

New York, Jan. 10—Sympathizers of General Hippolyte, the rebel leader in Hayti, are still sending him arms and provisions from here.

LARGE FIRE IN PARIS.

Paris, Jan. 10—A great fire in the 11th Arrondissement to-day destroyed a number of scholastic buildings.

ACTION FOR LIBEL.

London, Jan. 10—George Irving, an American promoter of English investments in stock of the Home District Consolidated Gold Mines, has given notice that he will bring suit for libel against the Financial News, claiming £100,000 damages. Irving's action is the result of the publication of a series of articles in the Financial News denouncing his enterprise as a "wild-cat" scheme, and himself as a swindler.

VESUVIUS ACTIVE.

Naples, Jan. 10—Vesuvius continues active. Another new cone has been first open.

SHIP W. P. GRACE ARRIVES.

San Francisco, Jan. 10—The ship W. P. Grace has arrived from New York after a prolonged voyage of 169 days. During a storm on September 11th two of her seamen who were furling sails were thrown into the sea and drowned.

THE STORM IN BUFFALO.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 10—The whole of the thirteenth ward is under water. It is reported several lives are lost. The suspension bridge crossing the Niagara river below the Falls was swept away.

A WRECKED STEAMER.

Sag Harbor, L. I., Jan. 10—The steamship George Appold has become a total wreck. The crew and passengers are safe.

THE INDIANS TO NEGOTIATE.

Lower Brule Agency, Dak., Jan. 10—The Indians of this agency have decided to call a general council of the Sioux at Rosebud Agency to select a delegation of chiefs to go to Washington to negotiate for the sale of their lands.

GERMAN COMMANDER DEAD.

Zanzibar, Jan. 10—Capt. Downer, commander of the flagship Leipsic, had died of fever.

SKATING RECORD BEATEN.

Amsterdam, Holland, Jan. 10—The race for the amateur two mile skating championship to-day was won by Donahue, of Newburg, N. Y., in six and twenty-four seconds, beating Von Hamshen, of St. Petersburg, by seven seconds. The best previous world's record was six minutes and forty-one seconds.

THE STORM EFFECTS BROOKLYN.

New York, Jan. 10—The tornado last evening destroyed the entire central and eastern part of the Brooklyn navy yard and marine barracks. The few men in the building at the time jumped and ran, some leaping from windows. Capt. Williams was struck by a closing door, and was badly hurt. A few minutes before the tornado, never came of the big fire in south Brooklyn and all the marines, about eighty, crowded on the balcony to see the glare or more men might have been hurt.

BUILDINGS AND CHURCHES UNROOFED.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 10—Twenty buildings in Camden were unroofed, and one child was killed by a falling roof.

STOCK MARKET.

London, Jan. 10—There is little buying; the temper here is bullish. The only features are M. P. and W. W. The former fluctuated within a range of 1 per cent; opened at 74¾ and sold at 75¼. The market at present is at a standstill, in other words awaiting events, as it is not known what the meeting of railroad magnates to-day has come to.

OPPOSING THE ADMISSION OF UTAH.

Washington, Jan. 8—C. C. W. West who was appointed Governor of Utah by President Cleveland and who has arrived in Washington, intends to appear before the House Committee on Territories to oppose the admission of Utah as a state. This sentiment he says is shared by nearly every Mormon or Gentile in the territory.

EXPLOSION AT MADRID.

Madrid, Jan. 8—An attempt to blow up the Royal Palace was made here to-day. No one was injured and the only damage done was the smashing of windows. The petard with which the attempt was made was exploded on the staircase of the Palace. Great excitement prevailed for a time, the members of the Royal household being almost panic-stricken. Prime Minister Segasta as soon as he heard of the attempted outrage, hurried from Congress to the Palace, where he was at once admitted to an audience with the Queen. The explosions are supposed to be due to recent active raidings of a gambling house, the frequenters of which were arrested and fined and the money found on the table confiscated.

STARVED TO DEATH.

A Once Beautiful and Fortuhes Woman Dies in St. Paul.

St. Paul, Jan. 8.—Mrs. Theresa Camilla Anderson died of starvation at 226 East Seventh street at 8 o'clock to-night. Four years ago Miss Theresa Mason, the beautiful daughter of the late John Mason, banker of Toronto, was married to Julius T. Anderson, of Kingston, Ont., against the wishes of her parents. Anderson was a young man who possessed little money and few good traits of character. Miss Theresa's parents disowned her, and she and her penniless husband were sent adrift to buffet with the world, neither of them being able to earn a livelihood. They first went to Chicago, and later to Jamestown, D. T., where a child was born to them. Anderson proved a worthless sailor, spending most of his time at the card table, and last fall deserted his wife. The broken-hearted woman was left entirely destitute, but managed to reach St. Paul on a ticket presented by a railway man. For a while she managed to eke out a scant livelihood for herself and child as a seamstress, but soon [illegible] and finally [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] and

THE POLICY OF SLANDER.

MAYOR GRANT does not expect fair play from the Colonist and it is evident that he will not be disappointed. From the present time until the day of polling that paper will continue its misrepresentations, and thereby contribute to MR. GRANT'S re-election. While holding the Mayor responsible for the acts of City Treasurer RUSSELL, the Colonist forgets that the latter official was an old servant of the city, and that the period covered by the audit, which unearthed a wretched system of accounts and numerous defalcations, extend to the terms of Ex-Mayors FELL, RITHET, CAREY, and SHAKESPEARE, and no doubt actually far beyond those years. No person can defend the laxity that for years prevailed in the management of the city finances, but who is responsible therefor? The same system of auditing that has proved acceptable for years was continued during 1888. The finance committee of the Council, of which Alderman HARRIS was last year chairman, was vested with the same powers and duties as in former years. The supervision of the financial affairs of the corporation is specially delegated to this committee, but the Colonist carefully refrains from attacking any member of that committee, or, indeed, any member of the Council, in connection with the matter. Mayor GRANT, according to this unprejudiced authority, is alone responsible! The City Treasurer's honesty had never been impeached; he stood high in the confidence of every business man in the city. His accounts had been audited year after year, examined by finance committees and mayors, and pronounced correct. But, as it has since turned out, they were not correct, and the gentleman who happens at the time of the discovery to occupy the head of the Corporation is held responsible by the vilifier of the Colonist for the mistakes of all! The libeller has already retracted statements of this character and may have to do so again. Mayor GRANT is too well known personally for such misrepresentations to do him any harm; they will rather benefit his cause than otherwise. We sincerely trust the Colonist will fight it out on the line it has adopted, for we have seen so many evidences of what public opinion is on the subject that we know what the result will be.

THE SCHOOL TAX.

The Government has made a demand upon the city for $2800, the amount which under the obnoxious amendment to the school law of last session this city would be required to contribute. We have frequently commented upon this amendment, and our views are well known. The Council, repudiating the tax, have instructed its officials to pay no attention to the demand, which was promptly tabled. The clause under which the government expects to make the cities pay a tribute to Cæsar not exacted from all of Cæsar's subjects, is unquestionably unconstitutional, and the Mayor and Council are acting in the best interests of the city in resisting the aggression. It will be curious to watch how Messrs. T. DAVIE, TURNER and DUCK, all members for Victoria, and all supporters of the tax, will vote at the next session of the legislature when this question is again brought forward. Will they approve of extreme measures by the Government to collect the tax, or will they, recognizing the mistake that was made, vote for the repeal of a law that is a disgrace to the statute book. The Council will have the support of the citizens in resisting the efforts of the Government to collect this $2,800. The unanimity with which they oppose the arbitrary and unjust imposition speaks well for their intelligence and is indicative of the drift of public opinion. This question will figure conspicuously in the next election, and in order to test the sense of the electors, we suggest that Mr. DUCK put it in the power of the people to pronounce an opinion, by at once resigning his seat in the house. In the meantime Mr. DUCK as treasurer of the city, has been forbidden to pay over a sum of money, which as a member of the legislature he said the city ought to pay.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Mr. Duncan McIntyre states, without a contradiction, in a letter to the Financial News, (England) that the Grand Trunk has received more money per mile from the Dominion Government than the Canadian Pacific Railway has got. He adds that this fact is not well known either in England or Canada.

A London dispatch says the British Board of Trade emigration returns for the past year are just completed. They show a remarkable steadiness in the total exodus, the numbers being 280,088 as compared with 281,487 in 1887. There is a marked decline in emigration to the United States and Australia; the former decreased 5,500, and the latter 2,961. The emigration to Canada increased 3,000.

Superintendent of Police Roycraft informs us that the "specials" sent to Wellington were not engaged by him, and that as a matter of fact he had nothing whatever to do with the "expedition." THE TIMES may, therefore, have been in error in stating that the government were cognizant of what was going on. But this explanation really makes the matter worse. If a private citizen can collect a small army, provide it with arms and clothe each man with authority to make arrests, by force if necessary, the condition of the law cannot be too quickly changed. Supposing a collision occurred and bloodshed resulted, who would be held responsible?

The general opinion about the sending of the specials to Wellington is that it would have been better for them to have remained in Victoria till they were wanted. If people will just ask themselves how they would like to have a corps of rough men sent here to watch over them in case of any temporary trouble, they will easily realize how it is that Vancouver has never forgotten the insult offered to it a few years ago, and how Wellington must feel in the present emergency. No one has ever suffered from mobs in British Columbia, and are not likely to unless the conduct of the authorities cause our people to lose their self respect and make mobs possible.

The judges, says the Montreal Gazette, are in luck in the matter of Imperial honors. Besides the Chief Justice of the Dominion, the Chief Justices of Quebec and British Columbia bear knightly titles, and have now added to their number their colleague in New Brunswick, Chief Justice Allen. Though Chief Justice Hagarty, of Ontario, has not been thus honored, it is understood that it is in deference to his own wishes. In two of the divisional courts, however, the Queen's Bench and Common Pleas, the Chief Justices are Sir Thomas Galt and Sir Adam Wilson. It can be said of them all that they bear their honors with credit to themselves and their positions, and judging by the reputation he has won Sir J. C. Allen will maintain the tradition.

In order to secure the enforcement of the Chinese Restriction Act the employment of an interpreter becomes a necessity. At Vancouver the official acting in this capacity, is a full-blown Chinaman, who wears a queue and eats rice with chop sticks. It thus happens that a Chinaman is to a great extent entrusted with the enforcing of the law against his own countrymen; but a stranger feature still of this anomalous condition of things is that the government should have in its employ one of a race who it is trying to keep out the country. It would be a good idea for the Dominion Government to do a little once in a while for the sake of consistency. The employment of Chinese cooks and longshoremen on the government steamer Sir James Douglas and the utilizing of Chinese interpreters under the Restriction Act contradict any amount of anti-Chinese professions.

There seems to be danger, that in addition to the trouble about the Canadian fisheries the United States Government may have a similar difficulty with Denmark about the Greenland fisheries. Count Sponneck, the Danish Minister in Washington, has addressed a letter to Secretary Bayard inclosing several copies of the royal order of March 18, 1776, and of a decree dated May 8, 1884, which has reference to the same matter, which is but a new edition of another decree issued in 1850. These orders aim at protecting the Esquimaux from being injured by the too free use of intoxicating drink and by the diseases resulting from their unrestrained contact with seamen, under articles 2 and 6 of Denmark's treaty of April 29, 1826, with the United States. Concerning the fisheries the letter says: "As to fishing, the Government of the King cannot admit that foreigners are at liberty to engage in it in Danish waters, that is to say, at the distance of a Danish mile (4.7 English miles) from the coast, but outside of this limit Denmark raises no claim. The Grand Banks of Davis Straits, which are visited by American fishermen, are ten miles and more from the coast, so that there can be no collision of interests there. It would, however, seem proper for American navigators to be informed of the exact nature of the restrictions, which I have just had the honor to explain, and I am instructed to request you, Mr. Secretary of State, to have the kindness to co-operate in this matter by causing to be issued, through the competent channels of your Government an official notice to fishermen containing the provisions of the decree of May 8, 1884, together with the specification of the line within which fishing is prohibited off the coast of Greenland."

CITY ALDERMEN.

Communications—Claim from the Provincial Government for $2890.

The regular weekly meeting was held last evening at the City Hall. Present—His Worship the Mayor, Alds. Braden, Kelly, Wilson, Coughlan, Powell and Styles.

Minutes of previous meeting read and adopted.

COMMUNICATIONS.

From Joseph Smith, applying for a portion of Johnson street for building purposes. Granted.

From R. Finlayson asking for the return of a cheque which was placed in the hands of the Corporation as a guarantee that no damage would be done by the building of a retaining wall. Received.

From Supt. Sheppard stating that Special Officer Gayden has been notified that his services will not be required after this month. Received and filed.

From Drake, Jackson, & Helmcken, directing attention to an account rendered in March last for the sum of $75. Referred to the Finance Committee.

From James McGregor, stating that he will accept the position of librarian, and asking whether he is expected to donate books valued at $150 per year out of the $25 per month. The original letter never reached the writer of the communication. Received.

From John Begg, applying for the sum of $108 for board furnished D. Gardner. Filed.

From J. McB. Smith, auditor for Provincial Government, enclosing a statement showing the amount paid by the Government of British Columbia for teachers' salaries in the city for the half year ending 31st December, 1888, amounting to to $8670, one-third of which sum, namely, $2890, will, in accordance with section 10 of the Public School Act, 1888, be due and payable to the Provincial Treasury by the Corporation of Victoria within thirty days from this date.

Then follows the names of 21 teachers with the amounts of salaries.

Ald. Wilson asked whether action was not taken on this subject.

His Worship said the unanimous expression was that the charge was an imposition and although the Mayor was provided by the act with a seat at the Board of School Trustees he was asked by the Council to refuse to take a seat at the Board and therefore did not attend their meetings. The tax was an imposition and could not be legally collected.

Ald. Braden said the ratepayers of this city pay $3 per year to the Provincial Government to support the schools. He would oppose the payment of this account which was not, in his opinion, a legal charge against the city.

Ald. Kelly said he was informed by Senator Macdonald that the amount could not be collected from the city by the Provincial Government. The act was unconstitutional. The communication was laid on the table.

From Charles Ireland applying for permission to lay a sidewalk in front of his new residence on the north side of Coburg street, and calling attention to a defective drain. Referred to Street Committee.

From J. McB. Smith stating that he has been charged a monthly water rate of $2 and complaining of the inequality of the tax. Referred to Water Committee and Water Commissioner.

From D. Robson, City Clerk of New Westminster, stating that he received an account from the City of Victoria for $5.37½ for meals for Chinese prisoner and interpreter. Mr. Robson informed the Council that the amount would stand as a credit in favor of the Corporation of Victoria against a bill for $10 14 for meals supplied to a Chinese prisoner, and asking for a remittance of $4 76½, balance due. Referred to Police Committee.

From R. T. Williams asking for his share of the Corporation binding, numbering and ruling for the year. Received and laid on table.

Ald. Powell considered that the Corporation work should be fairly divided amongst the ratepayers.

From W. H. Spofford, calling attention to the dangerous condition of the sand pit on Spring Ridge. Referred to Street Committee.

From Eberts & Taylor, submitting their account for the year amounting to $2,000. Referred to Finance Committee. His Worship remarked that the account included the sum of $250 paid for the passage of a private bill.

A report from the Street Committee recommending the construction of a box drain on Toronto street and that Blanchard street be macadamized from Chatham street to Princess Avenue; also that a box drain on Superior street be repaired, was received and adopted.

Ald. Styles moved that the City Treasurer be authorized to collect the same amounts for suburban licenses as were collected in the past and to inform holders of licenses that the Council can give no guarantee that the license will not be raised. Carried.

Ald. Styles moved that the City Clerk be instructed to communicate with the Provincial Government and city members to have Dallas road opened.

Ald. Powell seconded the motion and said the drive around the beach should be opened up before the summer. It was necessary to have this work done.

His Worship said he waited on the Government in regard to this question and was informed that a road would be built. This was a very necessary work and should be attended to this year.

The Council decided to meet on Friday evening to take up the reports of the various departments.

Council then adjourned.

THE MAYORALTY.

To Robert Ward, Esq., Victoria B. C.:

SIR,—We, the undersigned ratepayers of Victoria, beg to request that you will allow your name to be placed in nomination for the position of Mayor of the city of Victoria for the year 1889. The zeal you showed in a former council, in which you served for the interests of the city, and the ability you have displayed in the prominent position you now occupy as President of the Board of Trade, besides your own large interests in the city, lead us to hope that you will be disposed to take a leading part in the several important matters which will, we trust, be undertaken by the incoming council. Should you accede to this request, we shall give you our hearty support.

"THE SABBATH MADE FOR MAN."

"Look yonder at the meadow fair,
See how the swallows frolic there;
Now wheeling round in airy ring
And now away on rapid wing;
They never stop their merry play
Because it is the Sabbath day.

"List to the lark, whose voice so shrill
Seems far and wide the air to fill;
Observe him as he mounts on high,
And takes his music to the sky;
'Tis not to welcome God's blest day
He sings his loud exulting lay.

"The bee is out among the flowers
Still toiling, as on week day hours,
Exploring every leaf and bell,
And storing honey in its cell;
No lighter load he bears away
Because it is the Sabbath Day.

"Gay grasshoppers among the grass
Make merry music as we pass;
See how they skip and frisk along
Responsive to their own light song;
They never change their sonnet gay
To suit the solemn Sabbath Day.

"Man only makes a solemn pause
In recognition of its laws;
His tools of husbandry put by,
Unhandled in the furrow lie;
His toiling hand now rests to pay
Due homage to this hallowed day.

"For man the Sabbath was designed,
To him its benefits confined;
It comes with a fresh power to bless,
As wearied, on we forward press,
Inviting us with smiles to stay
And rest upon the Sabbath Day."

—From Auld Scotia.

THE MINERS' INTERVIEW.

A Conversation Between Employers and Employed.

A deputation of Wellington miners waited upon Mr. Dunsmuir at his office, Government street, yesterday, to discuss matters connected with the "lock out." The deputation consisted of Arthur Spencer, Joseph Carter, John Greenwell and Ambrose Moisant. Mr. John Bryden, manager of the Wellington mines was also present.

The interview commenced with a few words about the misunderstanding.

Mr. Spencer—Well, Mr. Dunsmuir, I believe we have come down to see if we cannot adjust this, instead of taking the stand you have done, and to go this length with it, and we want to adjust it now. I believe the real reason that we are sent down is that you promised to come up and see us at any time we wished to see you, or even if we despatched for you.

Mr. Dunsmuir—Now, you misunderstand that conversation entirely. I understand from Mr. Bryden that he explained to you what committees I would receive, and what committees I would not receive. When you mentioned that committee I said as in former years I would not receive the whole body of men. I always would receive a committee from the men; but I certainly could never recognise a standing grievance committee upon any consideration. I would not place my managers or underground bosses in such a position to recognize grievance committees in any way whatever. I never dreamed of such a thing, and I have known other instances of it, and I think you know it, Spencer, where men have been the bosses, and men could not be employed or discharged without their approval, and you are beginning this way, and you cannot deny it, to interfere with men who are discharged, which I am sure is no business of yours as to who gets work or who is discharged. Your business is to look after and do the best thing you can for yourself, and whenever you meddle with other people's business, then you cannot make money. There is not a boss that I have up there but will listen, and I am sure the manager will listen to any man's grievance just as well as if I were there myself. I have such a large amount of business that I cannot be in every place. I have men to do that, that I can trust; the best men that I can find, both about the mines and the railway works, and if this had been a general thing, and I had not known it, that you were making complaints, and the manager and yourselves could not settle it, I certainly would have come up. But I know it was not general, and I have letters in my pocket at this time from some of your fellow-workmen, telling me that it is not general.

Mr. Spencer—It is so near general, Mr. Dunsmuir, that there is very little difference.

Mr. Dunsmuir—Well, I know it is not general.

Mr. Spencer—There are some exceptions.

Mr. Dunsmuir—Well, I know it is not general by your interfering with other men. Even this morning what have you done but put down committees to stop men from going to work. You talk about tyranny, what is that but tyranny? More, even, than any proprietor or owner would do. Then you will ask why I shut down the works? You threatened to strike, you know that; did you not?

Mr. Spencer—I know how that was.

Mr. Dunsmuir—You know that?

Mr. Spencer—We threatened to cease work on Monday, if you did not come up.

Mr. Dunsmuir—I suppose you do not know the reason why I shut down the works?

Mr. Spencer—Well, I have a pretty good idea.

Mr. Dunsmuir—I think that perhaps your idea is wider from the mark than you may think. I think you were one of those that I told when you came three or four months ago, up at the mines, that if ever a strike took place again, I was going to beat you; and that it was not likely that any man who did strike was going back to my works. Do you remember that?

Mr. Spencer—I remember some conversation on that, but I do not remember the words.

Mr. Carter—Then about the pillar work. They seem to think there is more danger, and timbering, and more dirt to handle than in stall work, besides those other things. We think it should be as much to clean pillars as it is for stalls.

Mr. Dunsmuir—You reckon nothing whatever for the greater ease with which you get the coal.

Mr. Spencer—Well, while the pillars stand, the coal is easily got.

Mr. Dunsmuir—It requires a little care; and it is not every man who can take a pillar out. But you must allow me to say again that the coal is much more easily got.

Mr. Spencer—I allow that; only the idea is that it is much more dangerous, and there is more timbering to be attended to, and on occasions a man has to drive a good deal in the solid. For that reason they think it is worth more, besides other reasons.

Mr. Dunsmuir—But there is a good deal less perspiration lost.

Mr. Spencer—Yes; but I think you will mind that the real trouble from the pillar men, the real ones were not the pillar men, themselves; it was the men in Nos. 4 and 5 shafts who were bringing it up, because they could not get boxes, they only getting a few, while the pillar men got as much as they could do with, and that is the real cause of the trouble coming up.

Mr. Greenwell—Some of the men say the boxes go past the stalls to other fellows.

Mr. Dunsmuir—It may be that they do not speak to the runners fairly? If I were you, I would speak to the runners fairly, and offer them a cigar now and again. (Laughter.)

Mr. Bryden—Regarding this thing of putting it into the hands of a committee, a man can always do better by himself than by a committee. Suppose such a committee came to me; I say: Well, I have a committee of pit bosses, and let it go to them, and they would hear the complaint, and there would be no end to it.

Mr. Carter—Mr. Bryden, I believe you look at it in the wrong light. They put it in this way: A man has a grievance, of deficient work, or poor stall and the boss and him cannot agree on the matter. Then that man comes and sees you, and you try to arrange the thing, whatever the disturbance. Then if you and he cannot agree, the man having a grievance calls upon the committee and you and they try to remedy it.

Mr. Dunsmuir—But there is no need for that.

Mr. Carter—But that is the feeling of the men.

Mr. Dunsmuir—There is no need for that, because every one of the bosses under Mr. Bryden has orders that if a man who is a practical miner cannot make wages in his stall to make them up.

Mr. Carter—That's another thing; I never heard that before.

Mr. Spencer—That is where the trouble comes in; each of those pit bosses gets his work done the cheapest way he possibly can to make the best showing on the sheets, and in that way the men cannot very often get what is reasonable.

Other matters were discussed and the committee left for home last evening.

BUFFALO CROSSES.

Breeding with Domestic Cattle—What a Stampede is Like.

Mr. Jones, a rancher near Garden City, Kansas, who recently purchased the Bedson herd of buffaloes and half-bred buffalo cattle, aims at becoming the sole breeder of buffalo crosses on the continent. The Stony Mountain herd which he purchased, numbered over 80 head. In shipping them to Minneapolis en route to Kansas, the half-tame beasts fought in the cars and many were killed. Hard winters and a good hay stack do a good deal to civilize even a buffalo, but the old Adam is still very strong in them. They are at best what the Scotch would call "kittle cattle," and under certain conditions their old wild instincts wake up within them. At present the survivors of the first importation from Stony Mountain are in St. Paul, with a view of being made part of the attractions of the coming carnival. The buffalo as seen in any photograph is a clumsy, hoggish-looking animal, but once aroused, as was the case when being corralled for shipment at the Winnipeg stockyards, they become examples of irresistible energy, and in their wild and headlong rush give some idea of thousands of them, without warning or any apparent provocation, would make a wild rush bearing down everything that came in their way. A hunter familiar with their habits in the old times when they were counted by hundreds of thousands, says: "What creates a stampede? Nothing—anything. While the buffalo is born in a wild state, and ought to get accustomed to storms, the sight of wolves and all kinds of noises, he is the most timid animal on earth. I have seen the coming up of a dark cloud stampede ten thousand buffaloes. I have known the howl of a wolf to set a big herd in motion. A flash of lightning or a clap of thunder seemed to scare them half to death, although you would argue that they would get used to it. And once started nothing but a mountain could turn the great wave aside and only exhaustion would bring them back to their senses. After a herd had fairly started, terror seemed to take complete possession of them, and it was the devil seize the last one. Then it was woe to the pioneer or hunter who happened to be in their path without a grove to shelter them. I saw, in 1867, on the Loup Fork of the Platte River, an emigrant camp which had been run over by a stampede. There had been seven wagons and 24 people, with about 30 head of cattle and horses. The rushing, terror-stricken herd struck the camp at daybreak and was 15 or 20 minutes passing. Only one human being escaped—a man who was carried off on the back of a buffalo, and left at a spot ten miles away. Not an animal was left, not a vehicle escaped destruction. I saw the site of the camp about noon of that day, and there wasn't a piece of the heavy wagons which I could not have carried off under my arm. The people had been tramped into the earth—annihilated—wiped out. The remains could scarcely be recognized as those of human beings."

The endorsement of German Syrup is unparalled. We will publish 1000 testimonials received during the last six months. Read them. May save your life.

Burlingham, N. Y., May 31, 1886.

G. G. Green, Dear Sir:—I am frequently troubled with severe colds, and the only remedy that will relieve me of them is your Boschee's German Syrup. I have used it for more than twelve years. It is a constant household companion with me. Our merchant here procured it first at my solicitation, and says he has sold a great many bottles. It is a very popular remedy in this section. Every person who has used it speaks in the highest terms of its merits. I do not know of a single case it has not cured. I first used it in Vermont, where I lived before coming here. I advise everyone to use it, as it is certainly the best cough medicine I have ever known. I have tried nearly all of them at different times.

Yours respectfully, Moses Gray,
Proprietor Grist Mill. *

Dr. Abbott's Joke.

Dr. Lyman Abbot, of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, occasionally reveals a vein of humor that is relished even by the sedate of Plymouth church worshippers. On a recent Sunday he said: "'I can enter the bowels of the earth,' says Science, 'and gather up and utilize the vast resources for man's comfort that have lain dormant and undiscovered since the world began.' We thank thee for that, Science. 'I can bridle the electricity that flashes through the skies and make it minister to the uses of civilization.' We thank thee for that, Science. 'I can reach under the ocean from continent to continent and annihilate time and space.' We thank thee for it, Science. 'I can collect and distribute the news of the world in a single night, and at your breakfast or tea table you can read it in your newspaper.' But can you make the papers tell the truth, Science? 'No,' says Science, sorrowfully, 'no power on earth, visible or invisible, can make the papers tell the truth.'"

Inquiries About Vancouver.

M. M. Sterne, agent of the Canadian Pacific railroad in San Francisco, tells a correspondent that from the number of inquiries, personal and otherwise, that come into his office he thinks a considerable number of people from California will go to Vancouver, B. C., in the spring, many to live, while others will go to invest in property, the latter thinking Vancouver will soon be a big city, owing to its being the terminus of the Canadian Pacific railroad. Mr. Sterne does not state whether he thinks an industrious man would be able to make a living in Victoria or not.

The Alaska Mines.

Mr. Laog, of Alaska, was interviewed by a Portland News reporter and said: "I think it is a good gold country as far north as a man can live. The foundation where the gold is found is granite, like it is in California. You know those red spots which used to be so rich in Placer and Nevada counties, California, well I found them in Alaska, and they are richer if anything than they were in California. The characteristics of the gold bearing country in Alaska are much the same as they were in California, with the difference that it is much colder up there. The gold was in size from the value of a mill to $4 specimens. It is fine gold, too, and sells for $17.75 to the ounce.

"I consider Alaska to be a first-class placer gold country, and any man who is a 'rustler' can make money in the mines there. You hear of many men who return disgusted from the mines of Alaska. In the days of California's greatest prosperity the steamers were crowded on each returning trip with men who declared that California was not worth a cent, and who advised everybody to not go there. Besides this many of those who have made lots of money in Alaska deny it for fear that the country will be overcrowded with miners and so cut off their chances of making more. Some who have made thousands of dollars there are the loudest in their denunciation of the country."

CITY AND PROVINCE.

—The New Westminster railway steamer is to be 900 feet in length by 45 feet beam.

—Steamer Williamette passed down this afternoon with a load of coal for San Francisco.

—In another column will be found a notice calling for tenders for the new St. Andrew's church.

—The British Columbia Monthly and Mining Review will be sold at M. W. Waitt & Co.'s book store.

—The tract of land sold on Dallas road by Mr. Frank Richards, Jr., will be divided up into lots and sold.

—A lady on the way from New York to meet her intended husband in this city was taken ill at Oakland, California.

—The New Williams' Directory of this Province, now being published, will use up 4300 lbs of paper and other material.

—William Jackson has been sentenced to two months' imprisonment at Nanaimo for stealing a bottle of whisky from the Quamichan Hotel.

—It is expected that the gross earnings of the Canadian Pacific during the year 1888 will amount to $14,000,000, and the net earnings over $4,000,000.

—The arrivals of immigrants in British Columbia last year via the Sound and San Francisco were 2000 in number, and by foreign vessels 1168, forming a total of 3168.

—The steamship Wilmington arrived at Departure Bay to load Wellington coal, but the mines having been shut down she has gone to East Wellington where she is now loading.

—The C. P. R. steamship Parthia is due from China. She has 1,500,000 pounds of tea and a large quantity of silk and other freight on board. Capt. Urquhart came down last night to take her up to Vancouver.

—The schooner C. H. White, with a cargo of furs and salmon from Kodiak, Alaska, is two weeks overdue, and her owners are becoming anxious as to her safety. She left Kodiak fifty-seven days ago. Her cargo is valued at $7,000.

—Death has again reaped one more beautiful flower from our midst. Annie, the younger daughter of Alderman Robt. Atkin, died at a few minutes after nine o'clock last evening from a very severe attack of diphtheria.—Nanaimo Courier.

—The case Greer vs. the C. P. R. came up before the Full Court this morning but was postponed till the March term at the request of counsel for the railway company. The question before the court is in respect to the title of some 6000 acres of land at Vancouver.

—The man Charles Johnson, who made such serious charges against the penitentiary officials, arrived on the Olympian this morning at 8:30 o'clock and left again at 11 o'clock. If the charges were true he should have stayed and seen the case through. The question is asked: "Who sent him or brought him here?"

New Autumn Dress Fabrics.

A complete line in single and double width goods just received at the City House.

Funerals.

The funeral of Adelaide Tindal, second daughter of Edgar and Myra Fawcett, took place from the residence of the parents, Franklin street, at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

The funeral of the late W. E. De Veulle will take place at 10:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

The Wellington Trouble.

The Belgians and Italians were not working yesterday at Wellington, but a few others miners went to work in one of the shafts. With few exceptions the company's men who are not miners, have quit working. There is some feeling on account of the special constables having been sent up, but there is not the remotest probability that there will be any trouble, on the part of the miners, who are determined that everything will be conducted in an orderly and law abiding manner.

The Crofters Justified.

About a year ago there was something like an insurrection in the Isle of Lewis, on the western coast of Scotland, growing out of the attempt of Lady Matheson to collect impossible rents from the tenants of her estate on the island. The Crofters successfully resisted the existing force, and Lady Matheson had to appeal to the courts for further power to deal with the 150 rebellious non-rent-paying tenants. In the meantime the tenants appealed to the Crofter Commission Court to reduce the rentals. A decision has just been rendered on this appeal. The commission has reduced the rentals 42 per cent and has cut down $12,110 of arrears claimed by the landlady to $1893. The decision is a complete justification of the crofters' rebellion and a sweeping condemnation of Lady Matheson, who is, by the way, the daughter of a creditor.

Entitled to the Best.

All are entitled to the best that their money will buy, so every family should have, at once, a bottle of the best family remedy, Syrup of Figs, to cleanse the system when costive or bilious. For sale in 75 cent bottles by all leading druggists. dec20-1m

Katie Putnam.

The popular little Katie Putnam will make her farewell appearance at the Victoria Theatre next Monday night in Dickens' "Old Curiosity Shop," Miss Putnam in the dual role of "Little Nell" and the "Marchioness," and Mr. Crosbie as "Dick Swiveller."

The New Cantata.

As stated last evening the new cantata, the "Golden Legend," was rehearsed by the Choral Society, at their rooms there being a large attendance present. This latest production of Sir Arthur Sullivan is considered his master-piece. Although the cantata is more of an operatic nature at the same time not too much so, but more enlivened throughout. We have always taken great interest in the formation of this society, and they are to be congratulated on securing the "Golden Legend."

Installation.

At the regular meeting of Columbia Lodge No. 2, I. O. O. F., held last evening, the following officers were duly installed by the officers of the Grand Lodge: Richard Jones, N. G.; D. E Kerr, V. G.; R. W. Fawcett, secretary; H. Waller, permanent secretary; G. H. Maynard, treasurer; Frank G. Richards, Jr., warden; C. Mallette, conductor; Jas. Pope R. S. N. G.; J. Deans, L. S. N. G.; Wm Huxtable, O. G.; F. Taylor, I. G.; R. A. Munn, R. S. V. G.; H. Bishop, L. S. V. G.; J. Davis, L. S. S.; W. Dempster, R. S. S.; B. Boggs, chaplain. After the installation the brethren and Grand Master and officers, and a few invited friends adjourned to the cosy dining room of the Clarence Hotel, where a pleasant social hour or two were spent.

Returned Chinese.

Six Chinese were returned this morning to this port by the Olympian in the custody of Mr. Hamilton, the United States Marshal. These were the ones found guilty of being illegally in the country, and ordered on a writ of deportation, to be sent back to the port whence they came. They were taken over in a sloop manned by two white men, but before a safe landing could be effected, the eagle eyes of two customs officials were upon the almond eyes, and the meeting of the optics resulted with the consequence as above stated. As the Chinamen embarked at Vancouver, with certificates issued at that port, they will be taken on board the boat for the terminal city to-night. In the meantime the marshal has accompanied them to the Provincial jail where they will be kept for safe keeping.

The Cariboo Testing Works.

Mr. William Morrison, of Cache Creek, one of the sterling pioneers of British Columbia and a former member of the provincial legislature, arrived in the city a day or two ago. Mr. Morrison reports an unusually fine winter in the upper country and cattle men as particularly pleased with the prospect of favorable weather for stock. Mining in Cariboo was fairly successful last year, it being the general opinion that more gold was taken out the past year than in the one previous. Great hopes are entertained that the new testing works will mark a new era in the mining history of the district. There is a difference of opinion of course as to whether the money will be utilized to the best advantage, but all are agreed that the vote of the people's money made by the legislature for testing the quartz mines of Cariboo was wise as well as generous. Mr. Morrison is one who thinks it might have been better had the testing works been operated in connection with Dunlevy's works. He thinks this for the reason that about three-quarters of the vote will be spent for machinery much the same as that which is already there, and because had Dunlevy's been utilized the works would have been operating a year sooner. Proximity to wood and water, which is a most important matter in connection with works of the kind, would also have been better secured by using the works named. Naturally there is bound to be a difference of opinion about such things, but as the matter was fully and rather hotly discussed last year, Mr. Morrison is disposed to make the most of what is being done. All hope that the testing works may do what some expect of them.

Marriage.

The marriage of Archie F. Reid and Miss Elizabeth Copeland took place at 8 o'clock last evening in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The Rev. P. McF. MacLeod performed the interesting ceremony in the presence of a large circle of friends of the high contracting parties. The blushing bride, attired in white satin and cream nun's veiling, was given away by ex-Mayor Fell. The bridesmaids, Miss Georgina Smith and Miss Laura Copeland, looked charming in pink nun's veiling. The groom was supported by Geo. Anderson and D. W. Cummings, of the Clarence Hotel. The music for the occasion was supplied by Mrs. J. Chase, who rendered beautifully an Andante from Beethoven, and a Composition of Hellers with spirit and effect. Her improvisations of "The Last Rose of Summer" and "Annie Laurie" were delightful; nor need we add that the "Wedding March" from Mendelsshon was executed with the skill of a master's hand. After the ceremony the friends of the bride and groom adjourned to their new home on Kane street, where a reception was held and a collation partaken of. The supper was the gift of Mrs. Anderson of the Clarence to the groom. Of the other presents were a China tea set, easy chair, extension table, centre table, jardinaire, pair of bronzes, silver cake basket, butter dish and knife, silver egg set, salt-cellar and spoons, album, eight-day clock, two handsome table covers, silver pickle jar, silver crumb tray and knife, a large lamp, mouchoir case, plush and jet brackets, silver cruet set, China egg set, shaving set, carving set, tidys and brie a brac. Archie and his bride have had a good send-off, and let us hope that many days of happiness and prosperity await them.

PRISON REFORM.

A Discharged Prisoner Circulating Damaging Literature.

A young man named Charles Johnson arrived in this city this morning and was engaged for some hours circulating a paper headed "Prison Reform and Hidden Secrets. A brief account of the tyranny, injustice and oppression practiced in the British Columbia Penitentiary." The article, or narrative, is alleged to give an account of the treatment accorded prisoners in the penitentiary. The man, Johnson, handed a TIMES reporter one of the papers and the following short conversation took place:

Reporter—Your name is Charles Johnson. I suppose you have been in the penitentiary?

Johnson—Yes. I served three years for obtaining money under false pretences at Nanaimo.

Reporter—Why are you circulating these papers?

Johnson—For the sake of humanity. I do not want to see men treated like dogs.

Reporter—The account given by you states that a Roman Catholic receives better treatment than a Protestant. Is the warden a Catholic?

Johnson—No; he's nothing. He believes in no religion.

Reporter—Hon. J. W. Trutch held an investigation in the penitentiary some time ago at the instance of a prisoner. He found nothing wrong with the management.

Johnson—That was a mock trial.

Reporter—You complain about the priest, the wardens, the doctor and everyone about the place. According to your ideas the place must be worse than a Russian prison.

Johnson—It is a regular hell.

Reporter—What was wrong with the food?

Johnson—The newspapers reported that we had delicacies. The food was no good.

Reporter—You could hardly expect delicacies in a prison.

Johnson—I don't expect to get any favors from the newspapers. They always said we were getting proper treatment.

Reporter—I heard that the prisoners are allowed tobacco and that they wear slippers.

Johnson—Well, I have no time to discuss that matter now. I leave again on this morning's steamer.

Reporter—The prisoners are allowed to forward grievances to Ottawa, and surely they can see their friends at stated times?

Johnson—My friends were not allowed to see me. I was treated like a dog.

Reporter—You are a free man now. What prevents you from writing to the Minister of Justice.

Johnson—I have written; but it is of no use; they will not listen to anything against their pets.

Assault Case.

In the police court room this morning C. N. Gowen was charged with committing an aggravated assault on C. H. Pridham. The complaint was amended to common assault.

Pridham deposed: On Sunday night last was attacked by a dog on Blanchard street; threw a stone at a dog; the dog was inside a fence; passed on and was met by Mr. Gowen; defendant said: "Did you strike my dog?" Witness was going to explain when defendant struck witness in the face; the combatants clinched; both eyes are black; witness fell below; after getting up another party sneaked up behind witness and struck witness on back of the head; cannot tell the other man's name; think it was defendant's brother; witness was alone; you don't know me judge; I took one glass of soda water to-day with a little bit of whiskey in it.

To defendant—I was drinking the best of rye whiskey on Sunday last; the dog did not come out on the sidewalk; will swear that no reply was given to witness when he asked why the dog was struck; picked up a second stone; don't know whether the second stone was thrown at defendant.

His Honor said no medical evidence was forthcoming to prove that the plaintiff received grevious bodily harm.

C. N. Gowen, the defendant, said—On Sunday night went to Mr. Carne's house; came down to the post office and heard the dog barking; went to see what was wrong; saw plaintiff hitting the dog; caught hold of plaintiff and asked why he struck the dog; plaintiff said he was not going to allow a dog to scare him; defendant said he would scare witness; "You can't do it," said Pridham; plaintiff struck Pridham and the latter threw a large stone at him; several blows were exchanged in which Pridham was knocked off the sidewalk twice; Pridham grabbed Gowen by the leg and was thrown on his back in the road. Held him down a few seconds and went on home; two other parties arrived shortly after.

Fred. Carne, Jr., stated that he was sitting in his residence when the dog barked; heard the dog yelling; opened the door; heard some scuffling on the street; found the stone produced on the door mat. Did not see Pridham.

Levy, a barber, said he was going down Blanchard street; heard the men and saw them fighting; crossed over; the men were standing up; defendant knocked Pridham off the sidewalk two or three times; told plaintiff to go home; he said he did not have enough; Pridham said he could fight witness; knocked him off the sidewalk; cannot say which man struck the first blow.

To Pridham—I did not strike you on the head and run off like a chicken thief.

His Honor said the plaintiff was under the influence of liquor and was unnecessarily alarmed. The defendant was dismissed.

Can He be Found?

As two young ladies were on their way home from the wedding at St. Andrew's Church last evening, they were overtaken at the corner of Pandora and Douglas streets by a middle-aged man, whose actions subsequently were, to say the least, suspicious. After he had passed the young ladies a few steps he would stop till they had passed where he was standing and would resume following them. This being repeated once or twice, the young ladies were naturally alarmed, and not knowing what else to do, took to their heels and made a bee line for the residence of the Rev. Mr. Starr, with the villian closely pursuing them all the way to that gentleman's parsonage. Thinking no doubt that the young ladies would be alone, the miscreant dashed through the gate and would no doubt have followed them into the house had they not had the presence of mind to bolt the door immediately after their entrance. Their fears were not over, however, as looking out towards the verandah, aided by the light from the parlor window, they saw he was still loitering around the premises. Matters were brought to an end only through the heroic action of Mrs. Starr, who in a thundering voice first gave the fellow a graphic word picture of himself and then threatening to call the police, which she very promptly did through the telephone. The call was answered without delay, but the scoundrel, thinking no doubt that such prompt action would surely bring him discomfort and dismay, slipped off just before the police arrived. The services of the officer, however, were gladly availed of by the young ladies, as they did not dare to leave the premises alone, the Rev. Mr. Starr being at the Y. M. C. A. at the time. The scoundrel may look upon the whole affair as a huge joke, but considering the fright the innocent maidens received, it was of too practical a kind and if he could be found it would not be amiss to make an example of him in order to prevent a repetition of such cowardly, not to say diabolical, fun. It is almost needless to add that Mrs. Starr is quite a heroine in the eyes of the young ladies.

Ald. Powell has withdrawn from the contest in James Bay ward, and will not be a candidate. Private business reasons have induced him to retire. His friends will regret to hear that they will not have an opportunity of again voting for him.

Broken Shaft.

The steamer Mexico arrived at Vancouver on Wednesday morning. When nearing the wharf her crank shaft broke. It will take two or three days to put in the new one, which is carried for such an emergency, and she will not probably arrive here before Monday next.

Week of Prayer.

At this evening's meeting in the Y. M. C. A. Rooms addresses will be delivered by the Rev. P. McF. Macleod and Rev. M. L. Rugg. Subjects, reforms, the abolition of the manufacture, importation, sale, and use of intoxicating drinks as a beverage; the destruction of the opium traffic; repeal of all laws which protect vice for the sanctification of the Lord's Day; social purity and other needed reforms—Proverbs, 23, 29 32; Romans, 3, 8; Habakkuk, 2, 15, and 2, 11; Luke, 1, 15; Exodus, 20, 8-11; Nehemiah 13, 15-22; Exodus, 20, 14; Matthew, 5, 28; I Corinthians, 3 26-17.

What Mongkow Has to Say.

An Ottawa dispatch says: L. Mongkow manager of the King Tye Company, Victoria, B. C., left here to-night on his way to the west, after inspecting the firm's establishments in the east. He had an interview to-day with the Minister of Customs regarding the welfare of his countrymen in Canada. He expressed the hope that the Government will not increase the tax on Chinese immigrants, and says that he has advices that China will adopt retaliatory measures against the United States for passing the Exclusion Act.

Yale Public School.

Monday, January 7th, was a high day for the juveniles and their friends. The weather was all that could be desired and contrasted favorably with that experienced on the examination day. After the early morning mists had cleared away the sun shone brightly and the temperature was pleasant, almost causing one to imagine an error in the almanac amounting to some four months. In the afternoon a goodly number of parents and friends of the pupils attending the public school assembled to witness the distribution of prizes. Mr. Teague, secretary of the board of trustees, had promised to preside, but was unavoidably prevented from fulfilling his engagement. Mr. L. Oppenheim, trustee, kindly took the chair. A pleasant hour was spent in the execution of a programme of recitations by the pupils, after which the teacher, S. Shepherd, made a few remarks in reference to the work of the past half year and the satisfactory condition of the school, as shown by the actual average daily attendance for December, which was 24. The following is a list of the prize winners and subjects for which prizes were awarded:

Department—Dora Oppenheim, Mabel Shepherd, Nannie Teague, Alice Teague.

Proficiency—Nannie Teague, Alice Teague, Ether Oppenheim.

Spelling and Dictation—Minnie Teague, Helen Oppenheim, Rosa Oppenheim.

Reading—Jessie McQuarrie, Lizzie Ward, Alexander McQuarrie.

Arithmetic—William Revsbeck, Alexander McQuarrie, Ether Oppenheim.

Writing—Rachel Oppenheim, George Ward.

The following promotions were also announced:

To second class junior—Minnie Teague, Dora Oppenheim, Minnie Eyles.

To second class senior—Jessie McQuarrie, Helen Oppenheim, Mabel Shepherd, Ethel Shepherd.

To third class—Nannie Teague, Lizzie Ward, Willie Revsbech.

To fourth class—Alice Teague, Alexander McQuarrie, Rosa Oppenheim, Geo. Ward.

A pretty and useful article was given to each of the pupils, who received their presents with evident satisfaction and pleasure. A pleasant afternoon was brought to a close with a cordial vote of thanks to the chairman and the singing of the National Anthem.

MAYORALTY.

To the Electors of the City of Victoria:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Through the very urgent personal solicitations of a large number of Voters, who have waited upon me since my refusal on Saturday last to become a candidate for the honorable position of Mayor of this city; I have reconsidered the matter and will now be a candidate for that office. At an early day I expect to meet you and express my views on the various matters of interest.

In the meantime I respectfully ask for your support and votes.

jan9 JOHN GRANT.

TENDERS.

WHOLE AND SEPARATE TENDERS REquired for the erection of St. Andrew's new Presbyterian Church, (stone and brick) corner of Douglas and Broughton streets. The drawing and specifications may be seen at the office of the architect, when tenders are to be delivered before noon Monday 28th inst.

The lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.
